Cargo boats of large size can be brought up close to the Managor's house at Castlewood, taking produce to Singapore at a very small cost.

The land is let on a lease of 999 years, paying 10 shillings an acre for the first crop only, and an ad valorem expert duty of two and a half per cent. 2, 182 acres are planted with Liberian

Coffee from four to seven years old, the yield from which for 1889 has been 700 piculs of cleaned coffee, 3. The price to be paid to the Vendor is Shares. Such shares will receive no dividend until the end of the fourth year, dating from 1st January 1890, the ordinary shares recelving 10% per annum in the meantime if the profits admit of it.

Of the total of undivided profits at the end of the fourth year, a sum equal to 10% on the whole Capital, or any less amount available, shall be set aside for a Reserve Fund ; and of the balance then remaining. any, a sum not exceeding $16,000 shall be paid to the Vendor as accumulated dividends on the 800 deferred shares, and any further balance shall be carried to the Reserve Fund. In the fifth and succeeding years the ordinary and deforred shares will rank equally for dividend. 4. It is proposed to open up 200 acres of new land in the first year, and thereafter further portions of the Estates in regular order until the whole of the Capital has been invested. A call of $10 per share will be made on let January 1891, and a similar call on lat January 1892, and it is expected that this will suffice to plant and maintain until ready for bearing, about 400 acres.

5. At a very moderate estimate the yield for 1890 should be 800 piculs of cleaned coffee, and should increase by 150 to 200 piculs per annum until the outturn: reaches about 7 picula cleaned coffee per acre planted, a result which may reasonably be expected, and which has, it is believed, been attained both in Johoro and the Protected

The average price realized for the present crop of 700 piculs, has been $27 per picul, and the following figures will show the expected results, estimating at $25 per pical

The China Itail.

WE reproduced the other day a long die tem, but consists of a complicated series of China has now got to do is to enter the disjointed make-shifts. More capecially Telegraph Union and complete her line to during the last year has the waywardness Kiachia. She will then be in a position to of Chinese policy been conspicuous. He compete with the foreign companies ; and.

would te a bold man who would dare to define the attitude at the present moment of China's rulers with regard to the extension of railways, or even to say who are the notual rulers of the country. Numerous memorials from Viceroys and others all more or less favourable to the extension of the iron road-have been publish ed. The Emperor himself has declared that, in order to make the country powerful, railways must be constructed. Reading the memorials and decrees, European pations came to the conclusion that China was about to enter on a new era of rapid development sho had at last awakened from her sleep of centuries. And yet to day the introduction of the great civilining agent of the West seems farther off than over. The young Emperor, without having rejected his old counsellors, is inclined to bestow his favour on new ones, and government at present-if any words can describe itappears to be an elaborate system of checkmating. There is a great deal of reformstion on paper going or. The Emperor, nided by some of the clever penmen who are round about him; is elequently denouncing the abuses of provincial administration, and ance Co., Ltd., closed from this dato, some spasmodio efforts are being made to restrain the lawlessness of Peking. If a nation could be made righteous by beautiful essays, China would be theffirst state in the world. But corruption and tyranny may be rampant in a city placarded over with proclamations denguncing these evils; and it is very doubtful whether, even the vigorous Chang Chi Tung himself, who so estentationaly announces his crusade against squeezing, has really done much to suppress this great bane of Chinese administration.

> trigues that are going on in the Imperial pelace at Peking, and we cannot recommend our readers to put very much reliance on the gossip that appears in our Northern contemporaries. This much seems to be clear, that there is a strong party in the Imperial palace working against Li Hung Chang. During the rule of the Empress Downger, the Vicercy of Chill occupied a position which might be compared, as far as comparisons between China and Western nations are possible, to that held by Prince Bismarck in Germany. He was guiding and directing spirit of the empire-asort of Imperial chancellor. We are not prepared to endorse all that our Tientain contemporary says about this statesman in the somewhat rhapsodical eulogy we reproduced the other day; but it cannot be denied that he has done more than any other Chinese dignitary to improve the relations of China with foreign nations, and to introduce into China the science and civilisation of the West. He has sometimes been led astray, in his zeal for reform, by not over scrupulous European quacks, as when he almost committed himself to the Mitckiewitz bubble schemes. But his mistakes have been mainly such as were almost incidental to his position. It must be difficult for a Chinaman, not reared in the thought and oustoms of the West, to detect what is sham from what is real in our civilisation. And in judging men like Li Hung Chang we must not apply the higher standards of Europe.

The first serious check that was given to the influence of the great Vicercy was the stoppage of the work on the projected Tien-

We do not know the nature of the intain-Tunchow railway. There is no doubt that the wisest course for China is to proneed slowly and steadily in the laying of railways, and Viceroy Li's proposal to extend the Tientsin-Taku line to within twelve miles of the capital was the most mensible first steamer leaving after receipt of order. that could have been adopted. However, For Coast Pours, Waters are packed the Palace intriguers were too much for him, and Imperial sanction was given to Chang Chi Tong's big scheme, which, if it is to be carried out on Chang's own methods, may not be completed within the next fifty years. Whether there is any really serious intention to construct this trunk line, or whether the whole thing is simply a wily move on the part of the enemies of European civilisation, still remains to be seen. In another matter, in which defeat was certainly more merited, Li Hung Chang's schemes have been thwarted. Some two months ago we reproduced an article from the Stanglar Mercury, in which it was stated with an air of great authority that the Choloo Telegraph Convention had been signed by all the parties interested and was to come into operation immediate. ly. Details of the various modifications made by this new agreement were given, and we were informed that Mr Judd had gone to London with the convention in his pocket. Now we learn from Peking, on the very best authority, that there is not a word of truth in the seemingly so, circumstantial. account given by our contemporary. The Tsung Li Yamen did write to, Col. Denby. when his first protest was handed in that the Viceroy had signed the convention. But that did not mean that the Chinese Government had endorsed it. ENGLAND AND PORTUGAL

London, January 5. - There is startling news from Africa in dispatches regarding England's attitude toward Portugal, and they are the talk of diplomatic circles. When I called on the Portugueso Minister this evening I found him well informed on all phases of the controversy between the two governments. He was surprised to Johnston, had been heard from, and that he was in good health and actively at work in Nyama in the Shire district. He further learned that Consul Johnston had heard of Major Serpa Pinto's latest proalliances encouraging the natice kings and with whom Consul Johnston had made friendly arrangemen's. In response to a question regarding the Betious change in African affairs, the blinister said: Public opinion ought not to be sent in, that Major Pinto has done only his
